Raw data from source systems

C360, Powered by Open Data Sharing

The screenshot shows the Databricks Catalog Explorer interface. The left sidebar contains navigation options such as 'New', 'Workspace', 'Recents', 'Catalog', 'Workflows', 'Compute', 'SQL', 'SQL Editor', 'Queries', 'Dashboards', 'Alerts', 'Query History', 'SQL Warehouses', 'Genie Spaces', 'Data Engineering', 'Job Runs', 'Data Ingestion', 'Delta Live Tables', 'Machine Learning', 'Playground', 'Experiments', 'Features', 'Models', and 'Serving'. The main area displays the 'Catalog Explorer' for the workspace 'az-prod-sales'. The breadcrumb path is 'Catalogs > amperity > customer_360 > amperity.customer_360.customer_360'. A table of columns is shown with the following details:

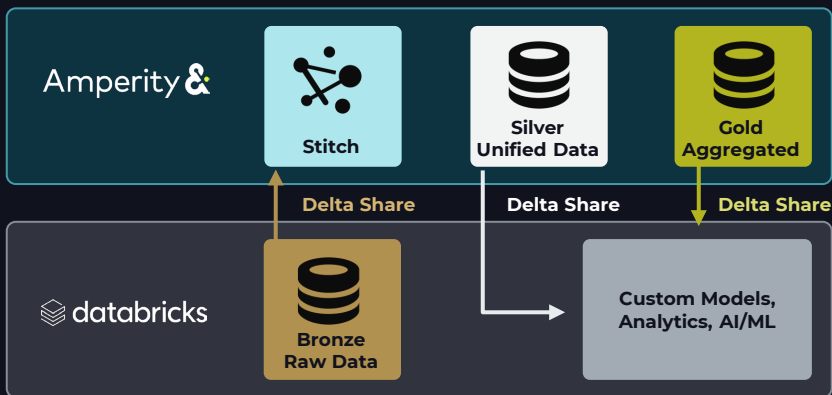

Column	Type	Comment	Tags
amperity_id	string
given_name	string
surname	string
full_name	string
address	string
address2	string
city	string
state	string
postal	string
country	string
email	string
phone	string
birthdate	date
gender	string

On the right, the 'About this table' section shows the owner as Daniel Perlovsky, the data source format as DeltaSharing, and a popularity indicator. There is also an 'Add tags' button.
